

Looking for a new job?

Have you ever wanted to find a role in engineering, but have not been able to find that start you have always wanted? Would you like to learn a new trade that can be applied all over the world? Then read on.

EPS Services and Tooling in Wiveliscombe are looking to recruit a new production operatives to join their great team, working day shifts Monday to Friday, with the possibility of regular overtime available.

EPS are the largest manufacturers of bandsaw blades in the south of the UK, who also service and repairs Bandsaws, Circular saws, Chainsaws, Chipper blades, and a whole host of other timber cutting products.

You could be working with Large bandsaws, making, sharpening, retipping and servicing them working with various machines to help deliver the best product every time.

Full training is provided by a team with a combined wealth of experience of over 160 plus years. Once you have been trained in all aspects of what EPS does, you will be recognised as a “Saw Doctor”, which is a skill that is required all over the world. Wherever Timber is being cut, there will always be a need for a Saw Doctor, and as the timber trade is a “sustainable” industry throughout the world, it’s a great opportunity to learn a new skill that could set you up for life.

If you a real team player with a great “can do” attitude, looking for the right job, then this could be the role for you.

If you would like to know more, then email your CV to steveeagle@eps-services.co.uk